What are flow battery chemistries?

Typical flow battery chemistries include all-vanadium, iron-chromium, zinc-bromine, etc. However, the current commercial flow batteries are mainly all-vanadium and zinc-based flow batteries. World-renowned flow battery companies are located in Austria, the United States, Canada and other countries.

What are flow batteries used for?

Flow batteries help create a more stable grid and reduce grid congestion and fill renewable energy production shortfalls for asset owners. Global R&D is fueling the development of flow battery chemistry by significantly enabling higher energy density electrodes and also extending flow battery applications.

How will the flow battery market grow?

The flow battery market is expected to grow significantly as the share of renewables increases in the primary energy mix. Despite their higher CapEx cost compared to lithium-ion batteries, flow batteries are expected to be used extensively for both front-of-the-meter and behind-the-meter applications in the next several years.
